Shalom.

By the time you read this, we will be in September and in the middle of the Hebrew month of Elul. As you know, Elul is the month of repentance as we approach the Days of Awe and Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. During Elul, we are told to approach all those we have harmed whether by word or deed and request forgiveness. Our victims are not required to forgive us. However, our wise Rabbis knew that the withholding of forgiveness could impact the person seeking repentance for years. So, our Rabbis created a tradition to ease this burden: if forgiveness is requested and refused three times, then the victim now owns the sin and forgiveness is assumed on the part of the community.

I am no different that any of you. I am human which means that I am half strengths and half weaknesses. Our Rabbis referred to these as the good and evil influences. I was recently involved in a discussion of the difference between intent and impact. Things may be done with a good intent in mind and we will never know that because the impact can be the opposite of our intent, causing harm where we had intended good. If any of my efforts, words, deeds, or intentions have caused you harm or offense in any way, I request that you forgive me. I have intended nothing but positive things for the future of Congregation Albert and I apologize for any harm or offense I have caused.

For some people, asking for forgiveness or admitting that their intention went awry is exceedingly difficult. In this time of significant change, I hope you will forgive me, my officers and Boards, all of my predecessors, the staff both current and past, our current clergy and education professionals as well as their predecessors, and each other. Without forgiveness, it is difficult to heal the breaches in our lives and community.
I have never had a problem admitting my errors or asking for forgiveness. The difficulty for me has always been the issue of forgiving. I can have an extremely hard time letting things go and forgiving those that have harmed me, and I have held grudges. As a young man this led to many anger issues from the slights I perceived against me. When I finally went to therapy over twenty years later, I learned a lot about my issues and tools to help me address them. I still use these tools today.

If you are like me, please realize that your anger can only hurt you and those around you whom you love and care about. This can include your Jewish and broader communities. I implore you to forgive me, my officers and Boards, all of my predecessors, the staff both current and past, our current clergy and education professionals as well as their predecessors, and each other. We must join together to support each other and the new future for Congregation Albert.

The last weeks of September hold our Days of Awe, the High Holy Days. The celebration of the New Year on Rosh Hashanah will be different for all of us this year. The pandemic has brought more change to our lives and how we will celebrate and experience these High Holy Days. Please be open to these changes and celebrate these High Holy Days to the best of your ability. We will do all in our power to make these High Holy Days memorable.

I hope you all stay safe and stay well.

L’shana tova umetukah – For a sweet and good year to everyone.

L’shana tova tikateyvu – May you be written in the Book of Life for a good year.

Shalom.
In 44 years of leading High Holy Day services, I have had to start from scratch three times. I learned to lead from three significantly different Machzorim (High Holy Day Prayerbooks); The Union Prayerbook, Gates of Repentance, and Mishkan HaNefesh. Not in my wildest dreams did I imagine I would, like you, have to start from scratch again. This year we all start from scratch, but not because of a new Machzor. We start from scratch as the pandemic causes us to be virtual.

I, like you, have things I will miss by not being in a synagogue. Here is my partial list which may overlap with yours.

- Greeting so many of you in person, especially our young people.
- Catching up after time apart.
- Being able to see and hear Zamir, our choir, and our Congregation Albert Band gathered as one, praying with all their hearts, their souls, and their strength.
- Seeing you all standing for Kol Nidre
- Hearing your voices reading and singing
- Looking out over a darkened sanctuary watching you wave your glow sticks, swaying and singing the blessings for Havdalah.

The joy this year is in the opportunities and challenges of exploring different ways to express our spirituality and travel our individual and communal paths to Teshuvah.

As Cantor Finn and I, in consultation with the Religious Practices Committee, have planned this year’s High Holiday, Sukkot, and Simchat Torah services, we have worked to balance the opportunities to be creative in this new online environment and with the need to provide a sacred experience that brings the comfort of the familiar.
The joy has been;

- Working in partnership with Cantor Finn as we challenge and support each other’s ideas for worshiping in a world separated by distance and connected over the miles.
- Hearing you tell me that for the first time in years or even decades, you will be able to observe this sacred time with family across country and the world.
- Learning from you what makes these Holy Days resonate in your souls
- Learning from and sharing ideas with colleagues to vision how to make this time sacred.
- Having the freedom to try new things like our Rosh Hashanah Seder and our Drive Through Sukkah
- Finding ways to bring this sacred time to you like Shofar in the Hood.
- The challenge of making sure that all our Congregation Albert family can access our services regardless of disability or the challenges of the internet.

We live in a challenging time that is filled with new opportunities for personal growth, creating new sacred ways of prayer, celebration and learning.

How are you going to find ways this year to do your self-evaluation, do your Teshuvah, grow through the challenges and opportunities this New Year brings?

Michele, Cantor and David Finn, Rachel and Harvey Sternheim, and Dale and Joel Cooperman, along with Joell Ackerman and her entire team, join me in wishing you Shanah Tovah, a good year, a sweet year, a year filled with blessings and, especially this year, HEALTH,

Rabbi Harry Rosenfeld

Thanks to Gordon Bronitsky and Randi Thompson for sending in your favorite nature pictures. The subjects range from the macro to the micro. And six-year old Dylan shares his observation about bees. Next month we ask that you continue to send photos, drawings, poems or a sentence or two describing how nature affects you and what you would miss if you could not experience it.

Storm Below the Sandias
by Gordon Bronitsky

Painted Lady Butterfly
by Randi Thompson

“I’ve been to Sandia Crest innumerable times, but once I was there as a storm was breaking below us, and it was almost as if I had never seen the view from the Crest before, so here is a picture of that memorable moment.” Gordon
“Did you know I have a bee friend? I see it at the neighbor’s bush. I look out the window at the big bush. He has something all the way around his neck. I think it is pollen. I see him twice a day - in the morning and in the afternoon. Sometimes I see ginormous wasps. They are huge. They are the size of a rock.”
Dictated to Judy Smith by Dylan, age 6

Please continue to send your photos, drawings and nature thoughts to Paula Donahue at stevedonahue@q.com.

If you are interested in joining the Congregation Albert Green Team, we are still looking for interested congregants who can help us broaden our mission to serve the larger community. Just call Paula Donahue at 266-3954 or Judy Smith at 249-3855.

The Religious Practices committee met by Zoom with the clergy to discuss High Holy Day observances, and viewed information from the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ). We appreciate greatly the input we have received from many of you that has helped us make our plan. As with current services, meeting together in the Synagogue building is not safe and not recommended by URJ. The goal is to provide Holy Day experiences that are meaningful and representative of messages embodied in this solemn season. We will endeavor to make all things available for our community. This is an evolving process so please monitor the Congregation Albert website so you may participate as fully as possible.
Robert Rosenberg, Chair Religious Practices Committee
We welcome students and families to an environment that encourages spiritual and academic growth.

Our youth education program is based on a philosophy of Jewish Peoplehood that includes Jewish families of all types and encourages family participation in congregational activities, services, special programs, tzedakah projects, tikkun olam opportunities and more.

The school’s “learn & do” approach to education combines student and family participation in social action, mitzvot, and ritual/holiday experiences with the study of Torah, other sacred texts, history, and tradition in the classroom setting. For the time being, all grades will be online via Zoom until state guidelines allow for in-person education.

The program will engage the students in a variety of ways:

- Online classes on Sundays and Wednesdays (days/times vary by grade level)
- Monthly Matanah, a package or assignment that is completed at home and reviewed in class
- Shalom Learning platform-teachers access during class with student log-ins for home use
CASJS Schedule of Classes

Kindergarten – 3rd grade meet weekly on Sunday mornings 9:30 am – 11:00 am

Sunday classes will end at 12:00 noon once in-person gatherings resume

Grades 4 – 7 meet twice a week on Sunday mornings and Wednesday evenings 5:30 -7:00 pm

Gan Katan (Pre-K) for young children will begin January 2021

DID YOU KNOW?

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act allows U.S. taxpayers to deduct donations to charity of up to $300 on their 2020 federal tax return – and you don't even need to itemize to get it! This provision was created to help nonprofit organizations that are facing economic hardship during the COVID-19 crisis. Please consider giving to Congregation Albert. Talk with a tax professional for more information and what it means for your 2020 filing.

SECURITY COMMITTEE

The Security Committee is delighted to report that we were able to raise enough money from many generous CA’s members and non-members for the security interior cameras.

The interior security cameras will be in place in time for the High Holidays.

The response was overwhelming, and the Security Committee is very grateful to you all.

A special thanks to:

CEMETERY COMMITTEE

With Jewish High Holidays of Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur coming soon, they bring to mind our fleeting days on earth and reminders of mortality.

During the holidays of Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Passover, and Shavout, a special memorial service called Yizkor is held specifically to remember deceased loved ones. Yizkor is the Hebrew word for remembrance. It’s a time for us to ponder the meaning of our lives as we remember those who have died.

As we consider our mortality, it’s a good time to plan ahead for our eventual demise. Funeral homes offer checklists for the many things that must be done and decisions made when there’s a death in the family. These lists of 50 or more things to do after a death has occurred can encourage preneed planning. The number of people to notify, expenses to pay, and contacts to be made can be overwhelming if there’s been no advance planning nor information gathered.
For Jews, there are additional aspects that must be addressed when following Jewish funeral traditions. To help, Gail Rubin on the Cemetery Committee has created this checklist: 50 Things for Jews to Do When a Death Occurs. You can download the list from her website at this page: https://agoodgoodbye.com/religious-traditions/a-checklist-for-jewish-funeral-planning/

Don’t put off planning ahead for our 100% mortality rate!

Sculptures for the Cemetery

The Cemetery Committee is further beautifying the Congregation Albert cemetery with two sculptures. These are designed to hold pebbles to leave on headstones when you visit your loved ones.

The sculptures are made of gray granite. They are comprised of a stack of triangles, topped with a Jewish star. The sculpture is about two and a half to three feet tall. The star has a wide bowl to hold the pebbles, and a weep hole to allow rainwater to drain.

If you are interested in sponsoring one of these sculptures, with engraving included, contact committee chair Scott Steinberg at ssteinberg11@comcast.net.
have you forgotten us? we haven't forgotten you!

These faces are waiting for the day we get to welcome all of you back into Congregation Albert! Until then, don't forget that even with our building closed, we are still here & ready to support and serve you in ANY way we can!

Feeling Creative?

we are looking for arts or crafts that are suitable to be hung in our outdoor Sukkah!

If you can make something, we would appreciate it! Just call the office (505) 883-1818 to arrange to drop off your creations by the synagogue before September 25th.

Thanks- We can't wait to see your creativity!
Feeling a little stressed out or just a bit off center? Shabbat Morning meditation can help. Join us via Zoom to see if you like it. If you are interested in getting an electronic copy of the monthly meditation service and reminders to join by Zoom, just send an email to stevedonahue@q.com so we can add you to the list.

We meet from 10:30 a.m. to approximately 11:10 a.m. once a month. The meditation group meditates at the same time as Shabbat services, but usually ends before the Torah reading. That way meditators may join with other worshippers for the 2nd half of traditional services if they wish. If you have questions call co-leaders Paula Schwartz and Paula Donahue. Ruth Shore Mondlick—Albuquerque, NM

Ruth Shore Mondlick grew up in a Jewish neighborhood in Providence, Rhode Island. Although her family was not very involved in the temple, they did have a strong connection to the Jewish community. After Mondlick married her late husband, Martin, they became active at their Rhode Island congregation. Since moving to Albuquerque in 1964, Mondlick has been an active member and participant at Congregation Albert and various local Jewish organizations. She was a founding member of Jewish Family Service. She and Martin never deliberated about whether or not to leave a Legacy gift. Continuing Jewish life has always been vitally important to them. Mondlick’s Legacy gift is to Congregation Albert and the Jewish Care Program, which took the place of Jewish Family Service.

No Matter your involvement in the Jewish community, leaving an after-lifetime endowment gift through LIFE & LEGACY is an easy way to support and continue Jewish Life in New Mexico.

Aviva Maxon, JCF NM summer intern, interviewed Ruth and worked with her to create this donor spotlight
